Last Time for Everything

IN BRAD PAISLEY'S RECENT "Last Time for Everything" contest, he asked high school seniors, the Class of 2017, to send in their best "lasts" via Instagram and Twitter. The country music superstar chose Barrington High School as the winner that presented a fun video capturing those "if we only could have" moments about life in high school.

"The heart of the song 'Last Time for Everything' for me is, the senior year of high school," Paisley said in a recent radio interview. "... when you're saying goodbye to an entire group of people that you've been on a journey with for years. Life is full of those moments, but the thing about high school is you realize things are changing."

BHS Principal Steve McWilliams shared the winning video during the graduation ceremony, and at its conclusion, Paisley walked out of stage to everyone's great surprise. A three-song mini-concert and fun commentary added an incredible moment for the Class of 2017 and all who were there to support them.

"You're never going to forget these days in your life," Paisley said. "This is the gateway to great things in your life, but it's also the closing of a chapter."

This is a chapter the Class of 2017 will never forget!

Shechtman helped raise the funds and created community awareness for the unique warm weather venue that offers play for all children, especially those with sensory or mobility challenges. The Splashpad is open to the public for free from 9 a.m. to noon, and 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. Regular pool fees and rules apply between those hours.

Douglas Medal from
The Garden Club of America

WENDY PAULSON has received one of the highest honors bestowed by The Garden Club of America (GCA), the Margaret Douglas Medal. The award, presented to Paulson at the GCA's annual meeting recently is for notable service to the cause of conservation education. She was nominated for the award by the Ridgefield Garden Club, Ridgefield, Conn.

In honoring Paulson, the GCA hailed her as a "formidable force in conservation" locally, nationally and internationally. "She is a principled and tireless advocate for environmental education and the conservation of land." Teaching, advocacy, and philanthropy have been springboards to numerous board leadership positions in conservation organizations such as Rare, The Nature Conservancy, Cornell Lab of Ornithology, and BirdLife International.

In Illinois, Paulson has worked for decades to restore grasslands. Besides hands-on involvement in seed collecting, sowing, and removing invasive species, she leads bird walks to educate others about native landscapes and species and to teach in a prairie program she helped establish to immerse schoolchildren in local grasslands of the Prairie State.

The GCA is a nonprofit national organization composed of 200 clubs with nearly 18,000 members who devote energy and expertise to projects in their communities and across the United States. Founded in 1913, the GCA is a leader in horticulture, conservation, and civic improvement.

A Fond Farewell and a Warm Welcome

HUNDREDS OF FAMILIES have known Jane Smith as an integral part of their children's and family's lives over the past 22 years while she served as the director of St. Mark's Day School in Barrington Hills. As her life takes a new direction, many will miss her and the fond memories of their children attending the 3's, 4's, 5's and kindergarten classes. The school's new director is Maggie Sanford, who according to Rev. David Gibbons, the Rector at St. Mark's Episcopal Church, stood out among other candidates with her two early childhood education degrees, her passion for educating young children, experience with special needs children, technology knowledge, and her vision for the future.

Barrington Campus Life Center to Open

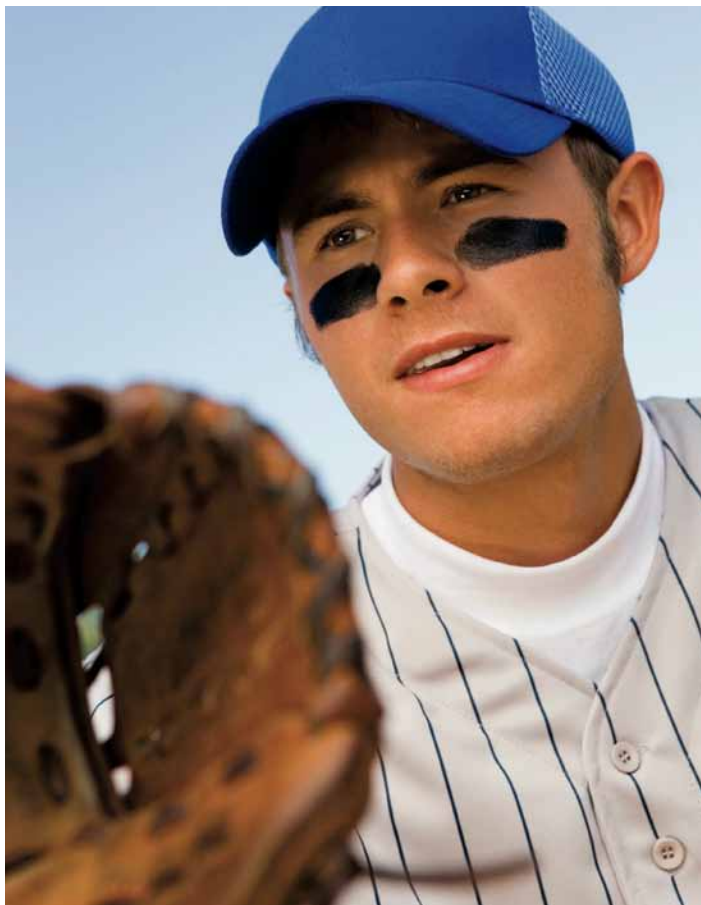

ON APRIL 27, COMMUNITY LEADERS, Barrington 220 School District administrators, teachers, and students attended the unveiling of plans for the new Barrington Campus Life Center. More than 70 people came to Barrington's White House to celebrate and support this new Center designed specifically for students.

Speakers included Brian McCaskey, member of the Board of Directors for the Chicago Bears; Chip Combs, of the Chicago Board of Trade, and Lance Murdock with Willow Creek Community Church. Staff members of Youth for Christ spoke about the need and importance of the Campus Life Center.

The Center is being built on Lageschulte St., just a few blocks from Barrington High School. It is scheduled to open for students this fall as a place where they can spend time with friends, get homework help and mentoring, find opportunities for volunteering, and enjoying social times such as dances, concerts, and weekly Campus Life meetings.

Youth for Christ (YFC) Chicago will manage and operate the building with staff members specially trained to build constructive relationships with students. The goal is to help them grow socially, emotionally, and spiritually. YFC has had a Campus Life ministry for students at Barrington High School for years, but has not had a consistent meeting place convenient to BHS. The Barrington Campus Life Center will solve that problem.

Youth for Christ Chicago is the local chapter of the international non-denominational ministry open to students aged 11 to 19 no matter their religious affiliation. YFC Chicago has 34 ministry sites from Valparaiso, Ind., to Cary-Grove High School. Youth For Christ was started in 1944 and now is in more than 120 countries and has over 160 chapters in the United States. For more information, contact Philip Bandy at pbandy@yfcchicago.org, or Tony Au at tau@yfcchicago.org

Go Beyond Barrington Succeeds at Its Mission

GO BEYOND BARRINGTON has been pursuing its mission of empowering communities in need for the last six years. The student-led nonprofit was founded in 2011 when Joplin, Ill., was devastated by tornadoes. Since then, its members have worked with other cities effected by catastrophic events, as well as for youth and family homeless shelters in Milwaukee and Chicago.

"Our organization is unique because we are entirely student led, and we are established on the principle of fostering human connections and relations with the people that we are serving," Sophie Harwood said. "In choosing a different beneficiary every year to serve, we chose Midwest Shelter for Homeless Veterans for our most recent year, located in Wheaton, Illinois. This charity provides housing, supportive services, and community outreach to help homeless and at-risk veterans and their families to achieve self-sufficiency."

Harwood said that the students fell in love with this cause from the get-go because of the incredible people involved, the dedicated nature in which it is run, and the difference they could make for these heroes of our country.

"We are so excited to announce that our latest year, most recently concluded with our spring break trip to Wheaton in March, was our most successful yet," Harwood said. "We spent our spring break at the shelter cooking for the veteran residents, organizing their donation drive, performing yard work, and more!" The trip highlight was the grand donation made at the end of their stay. From all 2016-2017 fundraising proceeds, the charity donated $21,675 to Midwest Shelter for Homeless Veterans. The donation will help fill significant gaps in the veterans programs. It also established Go Beyond Barrington as the platinum level sponsor of its 10th anniversary gala that the students attended in April 2017.

"We have worked tirelessly during the past year to raise funds and awareness for MSHV through different forms of community and high school outreach," Harwood said. "Some of which include our annual Go Beyond Barrington Games hosted at Barrington High School, our carwash, senior night black-out T-shirt sale during the football season, sponsorships, and regular storefronts. We would like to extend our sincerest gratitude and thanks to our community of supporters who have helped us make this possible, not just this year, but every year! We are beyond excited for our current year and encourage and appreciate any form of donation that can be made through our Paypal or with a check."
