Heidner Properties Announces Purchase of The Arboretum of South Barrington

BARRINGTON HILLS' HEIDNER FAMILY (Heidner Properties) has formally announced on June 30 that they have purchased The Arboretum of South Barrington. The 484K square-foot outdoor shopping center is a well-located commercial real estate property that offers the opportunity to expand its performance through the new owner's developments.

The Heidner family is committed to optimizing the success of The Arboretum of South Barrington and to its customers, retailers, restaurants, and community by strongly enhancing the center's current offerings. Reputable for being a destination of dining, entertainment, shopping and lush landscaping, Heidner envisions taking The Arboretum of South Barrington to a new level as an experiential community destination.

Plans include center-wide capital improvements, beautification projects, securing new and exclusive retail options and expanding the community programming. The Heidner family loves the Halloween and Christmas holidays, and the holiday plans will be unlike anything offered in the metropolitan area. They view the Arboretum as a passion, not just an investment, and are committed to the long-term viability of this shopping center.

"Heidner Properties is proud to have added The Arboretum of South Barrington to our portfolio," said Rick Heidner, president of Heidner Properties. "The Arboretum will be our flagship property, and we are currently developing plans to enhance the already fantastic mix of dining, entertainment, and retail."

"To now be both locally-owned and locally-managed, my dedicated management team and I are delighted by the acquisition and to work with Heidner Properties to help realize their vision for The Arboretum of South Barrington." says Cory Born, GM of The Arboretum of South Barrington

Being a local owner who has experience in commercial real estate gives new meaning to vested interest in a shopping center. The Arboretum of South Barrington is Rick Heidner's flagship property which he frequents as a customer so his vision for the shopping center began years ago. New and exciting things are going to be happening at The Arboretum of South Barrington, so stay tuned. For further information, contact Senior Director of Marketing Stacy Kallas at stacy.kallas@heidnerinc.com.
