Fox Valley Orthopedics (FVO) in Barrington has expanded, and area residents can now get comprehensive care closer to home. More orthopedic, pain management, and rheumatology specialists have been added to the team, and physical and occupational therapy are now available for a seamless delivery of care.

For orthopedic care, FVO-Barrington now has a larger team of specialists, including Sports Medicine Surgeons James Seeds, MD, and Joshua Alpert, MD; Spine Surgeon Lauren Matteini, MD; Hand and Upper Extremity Surgeon Shobhit Minhas, MD; Rheumatologist Raheem Nazeer, MD; and, Pain Management Specialist Ryan Unger, MD. In early February, Joint Replacement Surgeon Kenneth Chakour, MD, will also be joining the practice.

Imaging Services for an Accurate Diagnosis

FVO-Barrington offers onsite Open MRI and x-ray services with a team of board-certified professionals. X-rays are ordered and read at the time of an appointment for added comfort and diagnosis reassurance.

Physical Therapy

FVO-Barrington now offers physical and occupational therapy. Whether a patient is recovering from a fracture, surgery or suffering from joint pain, FVO's outpatient rehabilitation team will develop a cohesive treatment plan to help rebuild muscles, improve range of motion and restore function.
